Greg may be able to help provide some more accurate images along the lines of what they are asking for than what they may get from other parties. I agree that it would be inappropriate for us to have a discussion of this kind on the science issues in advance of the peer review panel, so if it goes forward without us, it would be important for the moderators to explain the reason for EPA's absence- we are trying to support the best science possible by supporting the transparent and rigorous peer review process, and do not want to second-guess that process in advance of its initiation early next month.

fyi, wanted to make you aware of this request from Wyoming PBS -- especially as there may be a round table discussion (presumably EnCana and state and community member) without us.

i can't see how our participation in a round table would not compromise the peer-review process.

Richard,

Without getting the cart ahead of the donkey, would it be possible to schedule a round table discussion with someone from your office Thurs. Sept 27th in the Wyoming PBS studio, Riverton?

I'm trying to schedule a couple of other guests who naturally have tight schedules. Their best window appears to be the 26th to the 28th of September.

Again, we understand EPA won't be in a position to interpret much on the findings since you'll be awaiting the peer review, but we'd like to have a discussion on the science and issues at hand.

Please feel free to call with your thoughts and any questions.

On another note, I'm looking for some EPA graphics of Fracking, well bore construction, and a map of the Pavillion Study area, is there someone who can direct me to these high rez images?

Thanks for your help,
Stefani Smith
